Dr. R. A. Falconer,
The President,
University of Toronto.

My dear President:

On the advice of Dean Pakenham I wrote to Vice-Chancellor Sadler, Leeds University, England, to ask him if he could possibly visit this country in 1915 to lecture to the Ontario Educational Association. His reply stated that he was probably coming across in 1915, and that he had left all arrangements for his lecture tour with Professor Charles H. Judd, of the School of Education, University of Chicago. I immediately wrote to Judd to ask him to include Ontario in Sadler's itinerary. It is very probable that the United States people will want him somewhat later than Easter so we would strengthen the case for an early appearance by giving him a series of lectures in Canada about Easter time. I have been wondering whether you could get a lecture for him to one of the University societies or to the Canadian Club here in Toronto.

As Sadler is a rich man I do not think the matter of lecture fees will seriously disturb him. If he makes any money at all from the tour it will only be to give away to some other deserving educational object. I enclose a copy of Judd's letter.

Sincerely yours,

Peter Sandiford

Professor Peter Sandiford,
University of Toronto,
Toronto, Canada.

My dear Sir:

I am very glad indeed to get your letter of January 6th. When I discussed with Dr. Sadler the possibility of his coming for a series of lectures to America, I had in mind to take up the matter with you and see if I could not make some dates for him in Canada. I shall certainly be glad, if he decides that he can come, to have your cooperation in the whole matter. I planned to secure dates for him in a number of institutions in the United States, including our own, and I am glad to know that you can have him in Toronto. Can you make any other suggestions about choosing Canadian dates? If so, I shall be glad to hear of them.

Very sincerely yours,

(Signed) Charles H. Judd.

Professor Sandiford,

Faculty of Education.

My dear Professor Sandiford:

If you can possibly make arrangements with Professor Judd to have Dr. Sadler visit Toronto at the time of the meeting of the Ontario Educational Association in April 1915 it will be a very happy result for us all. I am sure that we could have him lecture at the University, and undoubtedly the Canadian Club would be glad to have it, and it will be a pleasure to us to entertain him. Will you find out from Professor Judd whether it is possible so to arrange his itinerary that he may come at that time?

Yours sincerely,

President.

The President,
University of Toronto,

Dear Mr. President:

I am proposing to take out some additional insurance on my life to cover the period in which I am ineligible for the benefits of the pension scheme of the Carnegie Foundation. There is some doubt in my mind as to the exact date when I come under the scheme. Will you please take the matter up with the Foundation so that I can get an authoritative statement on the matter? The following is a brief summary of my professional career as university teacher.

(1) Assistant lecturer and demonstrator, Department of Education, Manchester University, England, October 1, 1906 to September 30, 1908. Salary $750. Not in charge of a separate subject.

(2) Tutor in Elementary Education, Teachers College, Columbia University, New York City, July 1, 1909 to June 30, 1910. Salary, $1200. Not in charge of a separate subject.

(3) Senior Lecturer and Demonstrator, (and Superintendent of the Fielden Demonstration School), Department of Education, Manchester University, England, October 1, 1910 to September 30, 1913. Salary, $1500. In sole charge of Educational Psychology.

(4) Associate Professor of Education, Toronto University, Toronto, July 1, 1913, to date.

If I read the regulations aright, I become eligible under the scheme twenty-five years from October 1, 1910, that is, on October 1, 1935. I should be much obliged if you could obtain an official reading of the matter for me.

Faithfully yours,

Peter Sandiford
